MAINZER NETWORK CI3 GOES SPITZENCLUSTER

The CI3 Cluster (<http://www.ci-3.de/>) generates innovative, patient-adapted immunotherapeutics und diagnostic tools for tumors, autoimmune diseases und infections in a unique network. By means of its unique approach, it takes new paths to a better, sustainable future medicine.

CI3 ImmunoPolis develops products on the basis of various technologies, which serve the goal of bringing immunotherapeutic approaches to clinical use. The focus of these developments is on low side effect immunotherapeutics. The possibilities of nanotechnology are transferred into clinical diagnostics and therapeutics. Integrated fluidic systems are used for the development of diagnostic biomarkers for early diagnosis and treatment decision. eHealth solutions for researchers, physicians, patients and public Web portals are created as a service for individualized health.

CI3 is preparing an application for a BMBF excellence cluster. ASPIRAS is involved with some project proposals. If you have suitable skills and want to participate, please contact us at short notice at 06131-995304 or pauly@aspiras.de.

MARKET RELEASE WITHOUT BARRIERS

In cooperation with a partner we take responsibility for market access of your products or the provision of clinical trial samples as Qualified Persons with manufacturing authorization for market release. Since the adoption of the 14th AMG-Novelle (German Pharmaceuticals Law Act) the release of drugs is defined as part of production. Before a drug is marketed or used in clinical trials a 'Qualified Person' must review the production process and the quality of the product. Our services include import permits, and the release of the commercial product and clinical trial medication.

Use our expertise and safeguard quality while maintaining your lean organization. Please coordinate an appointment for a personal interview at 06131-995304 or per e-mail to pauely@aspiras.de.

GOOD TO KNOW

With the modified Einstein formula $E = MZ^2$ Mainz starts into the year 2011 as his year's Science City. The title was awarded to the Rheinland-Pfalz state capital from the Donors' Association for German Science. More than 40.0000 students, 4000 scientists, various universities and scientific institutions show: Mainz is an important location for research and innovation. The potential is also visible in 2011 in the urban landscape: learn about and experience science in great exhibitions, guided tours, experiments, workshops, 3-D installations and research expeditions.
